

Canadian Charolais Youth Conference & Show 2015

“CHAROLAIS PRIDE ON THE PRAIRIES”

CCYA National Board (L-R): Kirstin Sparrow, Youth Co-ordinator, Vanscoy; Keegan Blehm, La Riviere, MB; Shelby Evans, Kenaston; Shae-Lynn Evans, President, Kenaston; Courtney Black, Treasurer, Foresters Falls, ON; Wyatt Ching, Vice-President, Rockglen. Missing: Tomina Jackson, Secretary, Inglis, MB; Luke Marshall, Innisfail, AB; Megan McLeod, Cochrane, AB.

The Canadian Charolais Youth Conference & Show was held in Yorkton, Saskatchewan this year from July 22nd to the 25th. 65 eager participants experienced a terrific event, with 65 head in the show. With 29 juniors and 26 intermediates, the 12 seniors had their work cut out for them as they assisted and mentored the younger groups. The strength in the youth divisions points to a strong organization for years to come.

The educational seminars started the Conference on the first afternoon. AgMoreThanEver has visited the CCYA Conference and Show for the past few years, Kara Martinson and her team got the group thinking about agriculture with a power point presentation on agricultural promotion and some interesting Ag Facts. Once broken into groups, youth were asked to write tweets for the AgMoreThanEver twitter page using hash-tags like #agproud and #farm365, some of these were posted online! The Juniors created Ag posters and paper fortune-tellers, the Intermediates watched video parodies created by the Peterson Farm Brothers and tried to create some of their own.

Riley Lafrentz, from Wheatland Cattle Co., Bienfait, worked with each age group on the different aspects of judging cattle. Riley made some great points on how to present yourself, how to work with animals and ringman to organize a ring and how to put together an effective set of oral reasons. This advice went a long way for our youth in both the Individual and Team Judging events held throughout the week.

Dr. Bart Lardner and Kathy Larson from the Western Beef Development Center in Lanigan also did a seminar for the group. The juniors learned about things to look for when selecting cattle for a herd and grazing choices. A presentation on the costs of heifer development and some specific research done at Termunde related to breeding and feeding replacement females was given to the intermediates. A presentation focused on the goals at Termunde Ranch, as well as data gathered from trials focused on different grazing systems for cow herds (swath grazing, bale grazing, corn grazing) promoted an excellent discussion among the Seniors.

The Yorkton Exhibition Association sponsored a barbecued steak supper for everyone on the opening night

Left: The 2015 Conference was hosted by the Weinbender, Ching, Evans, Smyth, Grieve, Beck and Rosso families – hats off to you and thanks! Right: Shae-Lynn Evans and Emma Sparrow dedicated the show to the memory of John Wilgenbusch. They expressed their heartfelt loss of a strong supporter of the program through every fundraiser they held and working to help host conferences in the province. His enthusiasm for CCYA was appreciated and will be missed.

“CHAROLAIS PRIDE ON THE PRAIRIES”

Shelby Evans, on behalf of the CCYA National Board, presented LeeAnn and Carey Weinbender with the CCYA Honouree Awards

setting the stage for the hospitality experienced throughout the week.

As has been the case for a number of years, the opening mixer was a highlight for everyone. The kids all participated and those that were new to the program soon set aside their apprehension and enjoyed the evening making many friends. Warm showers in the wash rack were welcomed, but for some reason the swimming area in the hotel smelled more of maple syrup than chlorine that night.

Sliding Hills Charolais, Carey and LeeAnn Weinbender of Canora hosted the Keep and Cull Competition. Jordan River Charolais, Glen and Lori Mangels, Carrot River, joined them to sponsor, cook and serve supper for all of the participants and their families. Everyone got a chance to have a herd tour and the youth enjoyed a team balloon breaking competition. The game turned out to be so popular, they played three rounds before it was time to leave.

Mike and Joanne Neilson, Neilson Cattle Company, Willowbrook, hosted a pizza supper Friday night in their beautiful yard and their sale facility. It was a relaxed supper and the kids enjoyed more games before returning to Yorkton to retire.

Barn Bosses for the event were Carey Weinbender and Glenn Ching. All of the parents chipped in where necessary to hold animals for the judging competitions and to help things run smoothly. Although the parents are not allowed to help the participants, this help enables the youth to participate in the week's activities freely. Special thanks to the Grieve family, who provided the animals for the team grooming finals.

2nd Generation CCYA Conference and Show Participations Awards were awarded to Morgan Debenham, Kennedy; Hunter, Halle and Hayla Herback, Bladworth; Will Rosso, Moose Jaw; and Pheonix and Titan Preston-Winder, Neudorf.

All in all it was a terrific week and many of the youth are already talking about attending next year in Alberta!
